NCC's influence on Indian society for its well-being

The National Cadet Corps (NCC), the largest uniformed volunteer organisation in the world, is committed to the business of youth empowerment and is ideally suited to help the nation realise its demographic dividend, thereby making a significant contribution to nation-building. The military orientation of its training curriculum also ensures handsome dividends in the security domain.

Perception Profile of Young India An informal survey reveals many facets. The younger generation is certainly more tech-savvy. It is materialistic in its outlook, given to following an easy, laid-back lifestyle. Many lack focus and commitment and are not inclined towards scholarly pursuits, research, or innovation. Most are indifferent towards social or community causes and issues. They are risk-averse, lack a sense of discipline, and are also afflicted by moral and ethical chasms that exist in society at large. Motivating youth to be engines of change is a challenge. Ask any parent, teacher, or elder, and most would support the youth being put through compulsory military training. budgetary and establishment constraints, the scheme was withdrawn in 1968.

The future citizenry The whole essence of the NCC lies in its investment in the future citizens of our nation. It harnesses youthful energy through its aims and by stringently implementing its wide range of activities. Over 70 percent of its effort is dedicated to leadership training. The objective is to develop character, comradeship, discipline, a secular outlook, a spirit of adventure, and an ideal of selfless service in each cadet.

The strategic perspective Strategic contours of the National Cadet Corps are evident on many counts. A few are listed here. At the outset, although cadet strength today is in the range of 14 to 15 lakh, as stated earlier, each cadet touches the lives of ten more. Thus, we can expect tens of millions of lives to be impacted.

The conceptual dimension It is well established that, in relation to our youth, the demographic dividend must not become a liability. The NCC plays a pivotal role here. However, numbers do remain a limitation, making expansion highly desirable. The service rendered by the NCC towards social causes is well known. Environment, public health, and cyber domains remain areas of key concern in social service and security-related fields.

Salience of the NCC

It is only imperative that the NCC be expanded in application and aligned to meet the aspirations of the youth with regard to acquiring skills leading to employment beyond the armed forces. This motivated force also needs to be harnessed to serve security-related (the cyber warrior domain) and social causes of national importance.

It is only in the fitness of things that this motivated youth cadre plays a more active role in solving challenges confronting the nation to ensure dignity for its citizens and India's rightful place in the community of nations. The digital force must be a disciplined force—herein lies its distinct advantage.
